

Love,

Enjoy your special day, Mom.

It's definitely healthier for both of us. Plus, this way we stand up for all the mother animals out there who just want to spend time with their kids but can't because of the terrible ways that they are treated in the meat industry.

So thanks again, and let's cook a vegetarian meal sometime. What do you say?

I know it's not always popular to do the right thing but you believe in me and realize that I'm just trying to make the world a kinder place.

Thanks for being there to support my beliefs about animal rights. That means a lot to me!

Happy Mother's Day!
